

Donnie Web

Donnie Webb is a 5'11", 190 lbs Outfielder from Oklahoma State University. He was born in Stillwater, Ok where he was an all-state selection at Stillwater High School. He hit .373 with 11 doubles and scored 42 runs during his final high school season.

Fulfilling a long-time dream of playing for the Cowboys, Donnie went on to an extremely successful career at Oklahoma State. He compiled a .352 avg with 26 extra-base hits, six homeruns, and 43 RBI in two seasons with OK St.

He was drafted in the 10th round of the 2008 MLB draft by the Cleveland Indians. He made his professional debut and spent the entire season with the Mahoning Valley Scrappers of the Class A Short Season New York-Penn League.

He started the 2009 season with the Class A Lake County Captains of the South Atlantic League. He compiled an impressive .289 avg with 29 extra-base hits, 7 homeruns, 57 RBI and a .771 OPS. He was promoted to the AAA Columbus Clippers where he continued his break-out season. In his short time with the Clippers he hit .367 and established himself as one of the future pieces of the Cleveland Indians.